Steamers Collide In Lake Erie Fog; One Seaman Killed

Toledo, O., Nov. 2 (P)—An unidentified crew member was reported dead today as the result of a collision between two lake freighters during a fog on Lake Erie.

The Lucas county coroner's office reported the dead man was aboard the J. J. Boland of Boland & Cornelius of Buffalo. The other ship involved as the Frank Armstrong of Interlake Steamship Co. of Cleveland.

Capt. Frank Monroe of the Boland reported his ship collided with the Armstrong off Colchester, Ont., about 1 a. m. (EST.)

The Boland's bow was badly damaged and she was proceeding slowly up the Maumee river to the Toledo Shipbuilding Co. docks.

The Armstrong received considerable damage forward but was proceeding under her own power to Lorain to unload an iron ore cargo. Her original destination was Erie, Pa.

Capt. William Bond of the Barge Constitution, which arrived here from Colchester, said he dropped anchor to avoid being involved in the collision. He estimated visibility at the time at about 300 feet.

Seats In Congress Develop Hot Races

Saari Of Houghton Hopes To Beat Bennett

Detroit, Nov. 2 (P)—Only seven seats appeared at all doubtful today as Michigan voters chose their delegation to the 81st Congress.

The Democrats have three congressmen seeking re-election—George S. Sadowski in the 1st district, John D. Dingell in the 15th and John Lesinski in the 16th. All are from the Detroit area and all survived the Republican sweep two years ago.

In addition to holding these they were most hopeful of capturing three other Detroit area districts—the 13th, 14th and 17th—and the one in the Upper Peninsula, the 12th.

The other most hopeful race was from a Democratic standpoint one in which Gene A. Saari of Houghton sought to represent the Upper Peninsula in place of John B. Bennett of Ontonagon. Saari has campaigned vigorously and has made a particular appeal for the strong Finnish vote in the 12th district.

In the 11th, Charles E. Potter, legless war veteran elected to fill a vacancy created by the death of Rep. Fred Bradley, was expected to win a first full term over Mrs. Violet L. Patterson, vice chairman of the Democratic state central committee.

Brother Takes Lie Test at Lansing in 'Prowler' Killing

Temperance, Mich., Nov. 2 (P)—State police said today that 27-year-old Donald Moore would be taken to Lansing for a lie detector test in connection with the shotgun death of his brother, Dale, 24.

Dale Moore's pretty wife, Dorothy, 23, mother of two small children, also is held for questioning in the shooting.

No charges have been placed against the couple.

Dale Moore died early Monday after a shotgun charge struck him in his home near here.

State police quoted his brother as saying he fired across a room at a prowler outside the window and that the charge accidentally hit Dale.

Donald Moore, a Toledo auto worker, was visiting his brother for a few days to help him build an addition to the small rural home.

Police said that the Moores had complained that they had been bothered by prowlers. However, the police said they found no trace of the prowler. Donald claimed to have fired at.

Donora Checks On Fog Which Took 19 Lives

By ORLO ROBERTSON

Donora, Pa., Nov. 2 (P)—The borough of Donora today asked the U. S. Public Health Service to survey the air above the town in an effort to solve the mystery malady which took 19 lives.

Council decided last night to enlist the aid of the National Health Agency after hearing charges that fumes and smoke from the zinc works of the American Steel and Wire Company were a factor in the deaths.

The charges were made at a old-fashioned town meeting by Frank Burke, safety director for the CIO United Steel Workers of Dr. William Rongaus, member of the board of health.

Before the meeting of about 200 persons, Dr. Joseph Shilen, head of the Industrial Hygiene Bureau of the State Board of Health, said preliminary tests showed "small quantities" of poison gas in the air.

Dr. Shilen said his preliminary tests showed the presence of both sulphur dioxide and sulphur trioxide in samples taken before the mixture of smoke and fog had lifted to any great degree.

He declined, however, to say whether the "small quantities" of gas he found would be sufficient to cause death.

Dr. Shilen said he expected to have his full report ready by tomorrow and would turn it over to Dr. Norris W. Vaux, state secretary of health. He added his agency would continue to make tests of the entire surrounding area in order to get a complete picture.

No charges have been placed against the couple.

Ore Shipments Now Over 1947

4,226,820 Tons Exceed Last Year's Total

Iron ore shipped from Chicago & North Western docks in Escanaba so far this year has already exceeded last year's total for the season and may go to 4,600,000 tons, setting a new peacetime record for the past 19 years.

Le McMillan, CNW dock agent, today reported that tonnage shipped to Nov. 1 this year totals 4,226,820; compared to 3,708,239 tons to Nov. 1 last year.

"Shipping will continue right up to the end of the month," McMillan said. "We expect to ship about 400,000 tons before the season closes, and that will bring total shipments to the year in an estimated 4,600,000 tons."

The anticipated 4,600,000 tons will be 518,581 tons above last year's total of 4,139,839.

No steaming has been necessary so far this year and the ore is moving out at a more rapid pace than in any peacetime year since 1929. About 300,000 tons of ore have yet to be received at the Escanaba docks from the mines to complete the quota for 1948.

During the recent war years the ore shipping peak was reached in 1943, when the total was 6,330,000 tons.

Ore tonnage by months from Escanaba this year is as follows:

April	457,334
May	707,579
June	689,251
July	640,112
August	592,914
Sept.	605,334
October	534,297

Mrs. George Gray, 60, Dies In Traffic Crash

Gladstone investigated the accident.

They reported that the Gray car was traveling west when it struck the rear of a wide trailer, pulled by a tractor, also going west on US-2 at slow speed. The outfit is owned by C. G. Bridges Contracting company of Escanaba and was driven by James D. Balenger of North 15th street, Escanaba. A bulldozer was being transported on the big trailer.

Ed Kleckamp and Alfred Trowsil of Wilson, riding with Balenger in the cab of the tractor, and Balenger, were unhurt.

Mrs. Gray suffered a knee injury, and his mother, Mrs. Jessie Gray, 77, of Cooks, received severe head injuries. Both are receiving treatment in St. Francis hospital in Escanaba.

School PTA's Keep Halloween Peaceful With Dressy Parties

When Chief of Police Michael Ettenhofer was queried yesterday on the extend of vandalism by youngsters on Halloween, his reply was "None."

Through the cooperation of school officials and faculty members with the Parent-Teacher associations of each school, a series of parties was held in schools on Friday and Saturday nights.

Many parents as well as their children regaled themselves in appropriate costumes for fun at the school parties. Lunches were served and myriads of fun booths and other attractions kept the spirit high tide.

The parties entailed a lot of advance preparation, and hard work, but the joviality which resulted and destructive pranks which were prevented, left the workers and children satisfied.

C-C Nominates 10 Candidates; Final Vote Is On Friday

Ten members of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce were nominated as candidates whose names will be on a final ballot to be placed before the membership on Friday for the election of five directors for terms of two years.

Nominated in the primary election were the following:

Gust Asp. J. J. Bartella, John Boyle, A. W. Freeman, A. J. Goulais, A. P. Jensen, R. B. Mitchell, Carl G. Nelson, Wheaton Strom and William Warmington.

In the final election Friday, Nov. 5, the five of the ten receiving the highest vote will be declared elected to the Chamber of Commerce board of directors.

Remaining members, who continue in office another year, are E. G. Bennett, J. H. Jackson, Grover Lewis, C. J. Sawyer and H. H. Shepeck.

Diabetes Survey To Be Conducted

Washington, — A mass survey to detect unsuspected cases of diabetes, aided by a new quick test for sugar in the blood, will be conducted throughout the nation by medical societies and public health authorities during National Diabetes Week, Dec. 6 to 12.

Object of the survey, which will be sponsored by the American Diabetes Association, is to help those who do not know they have the disease to get treatment for it before they get seriously sick with the disease or its complications.

There are 1,000,000 known and 1,000,000 unknown diabetes victims in the United States, Dr. Priscilla White of the Joslin Diabetes Clinic, Boston, reported at a conference here. These figures are based on surveys already conducted in Oxford and Brookline, Mass., and Jacksonville, Fla.

A new kind of insulin, declared by Dr. White to be the "best yet available," is now under trial at the Joslin Clinic and elsewhere.

Seven Skating Rinks

Will Be Maintained Here During Winter

Seven ice skating rinks will be maintained in the city by the recreation department during the coming winter, George Grenholm, city recreation director, has announced.

Work on the indoor rink in the exhibition building of the fairgrounds was started two weeks ago. The building has been cleaned and hockey boards were placed this week.

Plans for an ice review this winter, similar to those presented in other years, have not been completed, and it is not known whether the Figure Skating club or the city recreation unit will sponsor an ice show.

Outdoor rinks will be built and maintained at the Webster playground, Junior high school hockey field, Royce Park, behind St. Patrick church, behind the Veterans Housing project and in the bay area. Shelters and heat will be provided only at the Webster and Royce Park rinks.

HEAVY VOTE IS INDICATED HERE

About 2500 Cast Ballots Before Noon

A heavy morning vote in today's general election indicated record Delta county totals before the polls close at eight o'clock this evening.

Nearly 700 votes had been cast by noon in Gladstone out of total registration of 2400 voters. A similar heavy morning vote was reported in Escanaba where an estimated 2500 voters had marked their ballots by noon. There are 7500 registered voters in Escanaba. Similar reports of heavy voting came from the various townships.

An overcast sky failed to dampen the enthusiasm of the voters who followed the advice of City Clerk Anderson and went to the polls in the forenoon.

Extremely heavy voting is anticipated late this afternoon and throughout the early evening hours until the polls close at eight o'clock.

Voting is being slowed by the fistful of paper that each elector takes with him or her into the election booths. The voters are being given six ballots, which require an average of several minutes per voter to mark and fold.

Ducks Dying Off At Famed Detroit River Marsh Site

Lansing, Nov. 2 (P)—The state stream control commission and state conservation department today were investigating reports of unexplained duck deaths in the Pte. Mouillee marshes, famed hunting grounds at the mouth of the Detroit river.

Milton P. Adams, commission secretary, said the reports were contradictory, but that dead ducks appeared to be showing up again, some with oil on their wings and others with no obvious clues pointing to their deaths.

In February and March last year, a food shortage and heavy ice was believed to have combined with industrial pollution to kill thousands of ducks.

The conservation department said officers and hunters had retrieved 75 live and 92 dead oil-soaked ducks, and added that "scores of supposedly still alive bluebills were imprisoned in the greasy slicks beyond the reach of waders."

New Rain Makers Being Developed

Schenectady, N. Y.—Silver iodide smoke particles, created by fire in special burners, give promise as tools for artificial snow and rain makers. In this they may replace dry ice and other substances successfully used during the past year.

Artificial snow-making by the dry-ice method is actually two years old but was first a laboratory process. Later snow was made in super-cooled clouds high above the earth by distributing in them finely-divided solidified carbon dioxide particles from an airplane. The particles become the nuclei of snowflakes.

The experiment has been tried out several times during the past year in various parts of the United States and under various weather conditions. A degree of success was achieved. Other materials besides dry ice have been tried but this is probably the first time that fire has been employed to generate smoke for snow-making.

Socialist Nominee Thinks Its Dewey

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 2 (P)—Norman Thomas, socialist candidate for president, predicts Gov. Dewey will win the election.

Thomas said yesterday in a campaign speech that he wished Dewey "well for the sake of the United States and for the sake of mankind."

Pocket veto is the term commonly applied to the action of the President in withholding approval of a bill for ten days when Congress adjourns before that time.

Voters To Supply Verdict Today On New Deal Regime

Business

Congress established the NIRA (National Industrial Recovery Administration—better known as NRA), and blue eagle banners flew over cooperating business and industry. The act called for codes in business to control "cut-throat" competition. It established collective bargaining for workers, and set minimum wages and maximum hours.

Agriculture

The AAA (Agricultural Adjustment Administration) was brought into being to control farm production and use government money to store surpluses. A $2,000,000,000 program was set up to take the pressure off farm mortgages and slow foreclosures.

Banking and Money

Congress voted to guarantee that no bank depositor could lose his first $5,000 on deposit if the bank failed.

Laws were passed to give the government increased authority over banks, to devalue the dollar and to disregard the gold clause in public and private contracts.

(Another act later banned the issuance of securities until they were scrutinized by the government).

The HOLC (Home Owners Loan Corporation) was established to curb mortgage foreclosures on homes.

The new deal's greatest experimental project, the TVA (Tennessee Valley Authority), was formed.

All this happened in the 100 days before Congress adjourned June 16. Some writers called it a social and economic revolution.

There was bitterness in some quarters, and new deal laws were taken to the courts.

The supreme court killed the NRA. A part of the farm program was nullified. There began a strain between the White House and the high tribunal.

Home Extension Meeting

The Home Extension Club will hold a meeting at the high school on Wednesday evening, Nov. 3 at 7:30 p. m.

The evening will be spent demonstrating lessons on Christmas gifts by Mrs. Nels Mattson and Mrs. Waino Lune.

Hostesses for the evening will be Mrs. Helen Vitol, Mrs. Arne Gran and Mrs. John Rama.

Religious Class

Rev. Schulek, pastor of St. Rita's Catholic church has announced the schedule for religious education to begin this week.

Due to the fact that the school has not granted time for religious classes, Father Schulek will conduct his classes outside of school hours.

Catholic children attending the Trenary school will go to the church right after school on Mondays. Those going home by bus will be furnished transportation.

Children from Kiva will meet on Thursday afternoons for instructions and children from Elbow Junction, Traunik, and Limestone will be instructed at 10 a. m. at the parish hall.

Wedding Announced

Word has been received here of the marriage of Miss Shirley Fitzgerald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Fitzgerald to Gene Case, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Finlan at Ann Arbor on Oct. 8.

Mr. Case is a student at the University of Michigan's Dental college.

Personals

Mrs. Betty Kopus and daughter Carol of Traverse City and Mrs. Ruth Knapa and son Kim, of Ypsilanti, left for their homes Saturday evening, after spending a few days visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cunningham. Mr. Cunningham returned with them.

Miss Emily Burns, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Burns is a surgical patient in the Munising hospital.

Mr. John Suomi returned to his home here Friday after being a patient in the St. Francis hospital in Escanaba the past few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Hans Hallinen are the proud parents of a son Robert James, born Monday, Oct. 25 at St. Luke's hospital, Marquette. This is the second child in the family.

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Gilliland have returned to their home here after a month's vacation in Indiana.

Little Community Switches to Dewey

Hart's Location, N. H., Nov. 2 (P)—This small White Mountain community—the first in the nation to report returns in today's election—cast 11 ballots for Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and 1 for President Truman.

In the 1944 presidential election Gov. Dewey polled 4 votes and Franklin D. Roosevelt 6.

DAV Meeting — A meeting of the Disabled American Veterans will be held Thursday at 8 p. m. at Unity hall.

Truck Stolen — A 1934 Chevrolet Pickup truck owned by Max Fredericksen has been reported stolen from 610 S. 17th street. The vehicle was stolen Monday evening at 9:20 o'clock.

Miss Ida Peterson, plant manager here for the Escanaba Glove company, has left for her home in Menominee, temporarily, to undergo surgery. No one has been appointed to fill the plant vacancy as yet.

Puerto Rico Picks Governor, First Time in History

San Juan, Puerto Rico, Nov. 2 (P)—Puerto Ricans vote today for their own governor for the first time in history.

About 872,000 voters, a record registration, are eligible. Since 1898 when Puerto Rico became a United States dependency, the governor has been appointed by the U. S. president. But under a law signed by President Truman last year, Puerto Rico won the right of Democratic election.

Laws were passed to give the government increased authority over banks, to devalue the dollar and to disregard the gold clause in public and private contracts. (Another act later banned the issuance of securities until they were scrutinized by the government).

Choice of governor also will make known the views of Puerto Ricans on the future status of the dependency. All three major candidates have differing views on this important island issue.

Munoz Marin, president of the Puerto Rican senate and leader of the popular majority party, wants the island to remain a U. S. dependency until the economic situation improves.

Dr. Francisco M. Susini is the candidate of the Independence party.

All this happened in the 100 days before Congress adjourned June 16. Some writers called it a social and economic revolution.

Have You Lost Faith In Mankind?

IF THERE ARE people who have really lost faith in mankind, we refer them to the grim manhunt in Luce county for restoration of their faith.

F. Hale Currier, 53, was a country merchant in the little community of Capac, population 960. On October 17, Mr. Currier, his wife and a neighboring couple from Capac went to their hunting camp 17 miles north of Newberry on a bird hunting trip. There they joined a couple from Detroit, who had preceded them to the camp. The three men went into the woods, each taking a different trail. Nothing has been seen of Mr. Currier since.

The chance that Mr. Currier may be still alive is extremely remote. And yet more than 200 of his friends and neighbors from the village of Capac have travelled nearly 400 miles to Newberry to carry on the search for the missing man. Some have remained continuously in the hunting area. Others were able to spare only a few days at a time. Most of the folks from Capac brought their own food with them and set up field kitchens to serve not only their own people but other volunteer searchers as well. The village of Capac has posted a $500 reward to spur the search for Currier.

The entire Capac football team left immediately for Newberry after playing a night football game with Memphis, Michigan, last Friday. The searchers included the village president, the superintendent of schools, the members of the school board, the president of the Capac Chamber of Commerce, the editor of the Capac newspaper and scores of people who were just neighbors of the missing man.

Why all this show of devotion and concern towards a man who was not a "big shot" by generally accepted standards? The people of Capac provide the perfect answer. "He was very well liked in our community."

No man can receive a greater tribute.

Forest Income Rises

THE FOREST SERVICE reports that the national forests earned during the first three months of the fiscal year about twice as much as the income during the corresponding period last year.

Most of the revenue came from the sale of timber in the forests of the Pacific Northwest. A quarter million dollars was received in grazing fees from livestock owners.

Local governmental units benefit from the operation of the federal forests, for 25 per cent of the receipts goes for road building and financial aid to schools in the states where the forests are located.

The Forest Service has produced new wealth on the land. It acquired cutover lands years ago and put them to work growing trees. Many trees were planted and effective fire protection was given to the areas to encourage natural regrowth. As a result, these wastelands have increased in value.

The restoration of the cutover lands is clearly shown in the Upper Peninsula. Pulpwood is being cut in the Hiawatha, Marquette and Ottawa forests, along with other timber products. Of particular value is the creation of new forest cover for wildlife, which is the foundation of hunting and fishing. Thousands of dollars are being spent annually by hunters and fishermen in the Upper Peninsula, largely because the forest areas are being kept green by the Forest Service and the Michigan Conservation department.

Challenge To Society

THE DELETERIOUS EFFECT of smoke upon the health of the people of a community has long been recognized but the most terrible aspects of this situation were revealed in the grim tragedy at Donora, Pa., over the weekend where 19 persons were killed by low hanging smoke and fog.

The victims were all asthma and cardiac sufferers. Hundreds of others were also affected and many were taken to hospitals for treatment. In the Pennsylvania tragedy, a heavy blanket of smoke from industrial plants was carried to low level by fog which clung over the valley for a period of three days. Asthmatic and cardiac patients found breathing seriously impaired.

Undoubtedly hundreds of other persons in other communities have been killed by smoke, but because they were isolated cases and victims of contributory diseases, it was not possible to put the blame for these deaths upon the real killer—smoke. The Donora tragedy, however, leaves no room for doubt that these 19 persons were actually killed by polluted air.

The catastrophe in Pennsylvania creates a challenge to every community—a challenge to adopt effective legislation to end the curse of air pollution, to demand smoke abatement on a scale never before attained in industrial America.

Russians Retain Thousands Of Slaves

THE RUSSIANS have such a notoriously poor record for keeping promises that it is not surprising that General MacArthur is having difficulties in his efforts to get the Russians to maintain Japanese repatriation quotas.

The Soviets still have almost a half million Japanese prisoners of war, more than three years after the end of fighting. They are supposed to return 50,000 Japanese monthly but have failed to reach this quota every month for the past 18 months.

The Russians, of course, are using these Japanese as slave laborers, just as they are using German war prisoners and thousands of Russian malcontents as slave laborers.

General MacArthur believes and obviously with justification that the Russians plan to suspend Japanese repatriation expenses. General MacArthur has announced that the Russians have already been paid by the Japanese government for the repatriation of 856,000 returned Japanese nationals. The apparent implication is that the matter of expenses is not a material factor in the repatriation problem but that the Russians are simply looking for an excuse to hold on to slave labor as long as they possibly can.

Tax Reduction Might Curb ERP

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington.—Some time ago in this column mention was made of an organization called Pro America as being one of many groups actively supporting Gov. Thomas E. Dewey. Pro America was referred to as a successor of America First, which was the stronghold of pre-war isolationism.

From the national president of Pro America, Mrs. Louise Hawkes Padelford, the daughter of Senator Hawkes of New Jersey, encloses literature to show that her organization favors the European Recovery Program.

If I unwittingly did an injustice to Pro America I am sorry for it. I am glad to be corrected by Mrs. Padelford.

But the stand taken by Pro America seems to me to raise an interesting question for the future and in particular for the future of Dewey as president. Pro America is for helping Europe to recover, but it is also for giving tax relief "to all income groups."

NO ACTUAL PROMISE

Many who will vote for Dewey expect further tax reductions along the line of the four and a half billion dollar slash made by the 80th Congress. Dewey has not actually promised a tax reduction, as his advisers are quick to point out. He has even now and then used the word sacrifice in connection with America's responsibilities to the rest of the world.

But he has talked about "tax revision" in such a way that many Republicans are looking forward to a Dewey administration in the same way a small boy anticipates Santa Claus. They will be expecting a generous handout shortly after Jan. 20.

The grim realities confronting the new president will, however, compel him to move in exactly the opposite direction if he takes account of those realities. He will more than likely have to ask the Congress not for a tax reduction but for a tax increase.

Will Pro America and others of similar outlook recognize that necessity? Or will they decide that saving the world from Communism is an extravagant and futile undertaking? Or the answer to those questions a great deal depends.

FUNDS BEING DISSIPATED

Shortly after he takes office, the new president will have to ask for a new appropriation to finance the European recovery administration. Funds are already running out.

But if current headlines are any indication, that is merely the beginning. A Western European alliance has been led to expect that the United States will furnish arms to equip a Western European army.

Dewey's adviser on foreign affairs, John Foster Dulles, has presumably been in on these negotiations.

Both Dewey and Dulles, along with a great many other Republicans, have promised increased aid for China. They have asked the Truman administration for not doing more for the Chiang Kai-shek government.

Both they have been vague about the nature and the scale of this aid, any increase will take more money. And a decision will have to be taken quickly since the nationalist forces in China are on the ragged edge of dissolution.

In the face of these overpowering necessities, the tax cut put into effect by the 80th Congress is seen in its true light. It was a monstrous folly.

It was folly because of its effect on opinion. Heaven knows none of us like to pay high taxes. The cut encouraged us to believe we could have our cake and eat it, too—help reconstruct the world and yet get by with low taxes.

It was folly because it cut out all surplus and put the government close to deficit financing. Yet we find Pro America speaking in its literature of "excessive taxation contributing to inflation."

In court the attorney for the new law ends for all time the poachers defense that he has been arrested in "violation of his constitutional rights."

A few years ago (and this is an actual case) three men were leaving the hunting country during deer season. Officers attempted to halt them to inspect their car. They sped up and the officers gave chase, eventually bringing them to a stop. In the rear of the car was dressed-out portions of a deer.

In court the attorney for the three contended their car was illegally halted, searched, and the evidence seized. Justice court ruled the evidence was inadmissible and dismissed the charge.

The three men had a good laugh at the law, other poachers were encouraged, and the officers went grimly on trying to get convictions under conditions that hindered them and helped the poacher.

THE PEOPLE—The legislature and the courts now hold that game and fish are owned by the people as a whole; that the individual who hunts and fishes is enjoying a privilege offered by the state, representing the people collectively.

The question of individual enjoyment is one of public privilege and not of public right.

For comparison, the individual motorist has the privilege of operating an auto on a public highway; but it is not a public right and the privilege can be denied him unless he complies with the regulations established by the state.

THE SPORTSMEN—The man who operates his car in conformity with the law has nothing to fear.

So, also, it follows that the man who hunts and fishes according to the requirements of the law has nothing to fear from the conservation officer who asks to inspect his camp, his game bag or creel, his boat, or his gun.

The true sportsman does not mind exhibiting his license, or his game, or permitting the inspection of his automobile or his boat upon request of the conservation officer. They are minor inconveniences. He is willing to help out because he knows the officer now has in the new law a weapon.

STALIN'S FEARS (Sault Ste. Marie News)

Joe Stalin fears the tide of Russian communism rolling back upon itself; fears that the world revolution of communism will not come in his lifetime.

So in a weak and fearful moment the "big shot" of the Soviet Union, his helplessness increasing, utters a tirade against the democratic world. It is only a tirade, because verse by verse and document by document, his charges that the western world is spoiling for aggressive war, can be disproved completely.

In thus baring his thinking to the world he may be also baring to the world a crisis. Up to now the seem of communism has been happy to sit back and play the part of an oracle of Moscow, Russia's great fount of wisdom. He left to Vishinsky and Molotov the part of toots for the show. Now something is so critical the old oracle shouts.

Perhaps Stalin is just finding out what actually is going on in the world.

DIRECT—DIRECTLY

Omaha: Our English class would appreciate it if you'd give us one of your common-sense discussions on the difference between "direct" and "directly." Does one go "direct" or "directly" to New York?

Answer: Many readers, secretaries especially, have submitted the same question. Direct and directly are confusing for the reason that both may be used as adverbs in the meaning of "in a straight way or route." Therefore, "go direct" to New York? "go directly" to New York? "go directly to New York" have exactly the same meaning.

Now in American usage, directly more strongly suggests "immediately; in a little while," as, "Ask him to wait; I'll see him directly." So, "go directly to New York" may be taken by some as meaning "go soon to New York," or "go at once to New York." This confusion may be avoided by objecting to the use of "directly" in this case. Directly means "a cutting out, a removal by surgery." Teeth are extracted, not removed.

Answer: It's inaccurate, for the suffix -ectomy means "a cutting out, a removal by surgery." Teeth are extracted, not removed.

It May Be a Blessing in Disguise

Good Evening

By Clint Dunathan

COOPERATION

John Chriske, district conservation department supervisor, told me the other day that the public is cooperating very well in the wildlife protection act, now

Michigan law. That law (Act 43, Public Acts of 1948, First Extra Session) provides that conservation officers have the right to inspect game, auto, hunting and fishing camps, guns, boats and other apparatus and equipment of persons who are hunting or fishing.

Dwelling houses and frozen food lockers are excepted from the provisions of the statute. To inspect those, an officer must have a search warrant in his possession.

Both they have been vague about the nature and the scale of this aid, any increase will take more money. And a decision will have to be taken quickly since the nationalist forces in China are on the ragged edge of dissolution.

In the face of these overpowering necessities, the tax cut put into effect by the 80th Congress is seen in its true light. It was a monstrous folly.

It was folly because of its effect on opinion. Heaven knows none of us like to pay high taxes. The cut encouraged us to believe we could have our cake and eat it, too—help reconstruct the world and yet get by with low taxes.

THE POACHER—The loudest yelling will be done by the poacher. He would like to cloak his activities with immunity from arrest and prosecution. A weak law is his friend.

Also in his favor is the vast area of Michigan. Officers have almost 100,000 square miles to patrol. Hunting for poachers is somewhat like looking for a needle in a haystack. Deny officers the right to inspect camps, boats, auto when and where they find them and you make the protection of wildlife almost impossible.

The poacher and only the poacher has anything to fear in the new "search and seizure" law.

MR. PRESIDENT, HERE'S ADVICE

Ruark Tells What Poor Taxpayers Want

By ROBERT C. RUARK
New York.—Dear Mr. President, whose name I don't know yet, would you spare a minute to hear the words of a cornfed constituent? You might like to know what you new bosses expect of you.

We don't expect miracles, because magic is not in you. You all were politicians — good, bad and indifferent — and your net experience in lofty statesmanship is nil. I think what we need is an executive, this trip, and I think we're gonna collect one. I think what we want is a boy who will get the crop in, the fence mended, and shake up the hired help, which has certainly gotten out of hand.

But there are two things we don't want, boys. We don't want any delusions of immortality in that nice White House; no Neroes, no Napoleons, no single-handed moulders of destiny. And we don't want to turn that spacious Washington dwelling into a clubhouse for old friends, hangers-on and free-loaders. There is a very nice kitchen in the White House — what say we leave it to the cooks, and keep the unofficial cabinets out of it?

Need Better Appointments

I know that all politicians owe debts for past favors, but insofar as possible, Mr. President, will you please pay off with minor ambassadorships to tinpot principalities, and keep their claws out of important business? We have had a recent experience of snoddy leadership in running a nation, and before that we had some striking examples of what happens when a guy gets so big for britches that any pal of his is automatically a copper-fastened genius. I would like fewer Harry Hopkins, Henry Morgenthau, Ed Pauley and Harry Vaughans in this administration.

Leave J. Edgar Hoover and the FBI alone. Don't bounce Edgar upstairs to some fancy foolishness like the heading of a special mission to correlate the consumption of borscht with Communist sympathy. The FBI is about the only institution in the government which holds, and has earned, the simple faith of the nation as a non-political arm, as solid as Sunday. Leave it alone. There are jobs enough to pay off the boys with, and we don't want some comic-book Hawkshaw playing cops-and-robbers with a going concern.

Get Rid Of Politics

Just haul off and kick the combined services smack on the fanny. Get those admirals and generals and 26-year-old Air Force colonels into line, and in a hurry. We have been horsing around with this unification, one way or another, for three years, and the bureau of ships is still arguing the superiority of the dreadnaught over the bow-and-arrow. Get yourself a defense chief who will drive those guys into line. Keep the politics up on the Hill, and out of the Pentagon.

Let us also please stop buying votes with special concessions to farm blocs and labor blocs and all the other blocs, and pay a little more attention to Joe Tremble, who pays the freight. These are just a few orders, Mr. President, from your new boss. I mean me and the 140-odd million people who will pay your grocery bill for the next four years.

LECTURE SERIES PLANNED HERE

Conservation Club Will Sponsor Program

The Hiawatha Wildlife Series of five monthly illustrated programs by outstanding naturalists will open in the Upper Peninsula the week of November 29, it is announced by Charles Follo, supervisor of the Escanaba office of the Extension Service. This new series is being presented by the Extension Service in Houghton, Marquette, Sault Ste. Marie, Iron Mountain and Escanaba, in cooperation with a local sponsor in each center.

Happy Valley will be given first at Houghton on Monday, November 29, in the high school auditorium, the local sponsor being Michigan College of Mining and Technology. It will be presented at Sault Ste. Marie on Tuesday, November 30, in the auditorium of the Soo Branch of the Michigan College of Mining and Technology, which is co-sponsor. In Escanaba, it will be given at the Oliver Memorial Auditorium on Wednesday, December 1, under the sponsorship of the Wolverine Conservation Association.

The series will be opened with Happy Valley, a program on Northern Michigan by Tom and Arlene Hadley of Pleasant Ridge, Michigan. The Hadleys, who are lecturers and wildlife photographers for the National Audubon Society, roamed Michigan forests, the shores of Lake Superior, and of the Lake of the Clouds in the Porcupine Mountains, as well as other beauty spots in the Upper Peninsula, in order to make this film in natural color. There are shots of Tahquamenon canoes scenes, October campfires, wild deer, beaver, birds, insects, and wildflowers, accompanied by a recording of bird songs, rushing waters, and other outdoor sounds.

Second program is Alaska, The Great Land by Ben East of Holly, Michigan, field editor for Outdoor Life Magazine. Successive

BAND NOT CRITICIZED

Ann Arbor, (P)—The Ohio State university band has apologized to the University of Michigan band for a report carried in a national magazine (Life) that Ohio rooters criticized the Wolverine musicians. William D. Reville, conductor of the Michigan organization, received a telegram from Ohio officials saying they had "admiration" for his band.

Fires on U.S. farms cost the nation $200,000,000 annually and destroy enough lumber to build 25,000 homes.

Skillful Dye Job Defies Detection

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Is the answer of the question "to dye or not to dye?" one which stumps you?

Dye your hair if you don't like it gray. But entrust the job to an expert. And be prepared to spend time and money on the upkeep of hair which demands more care after color is restored.

With modern dyes in the hands of an expert, hair can be tinted so skillfully that your color dodge will defy detection, says Jacques Paschkes. This New York hair stylist and dye - specialist has helped many a famous woman keep her age a secret. His success in coloring hair so that a restoration job looks natural is in the trick of shading, one which can be used by any skilled specialist.

"Nature endows a brunette, for example, with many different tones of dark hair and the dye job which duplicates that effect should never be one dark monotone," says Mr. Paschkes.

To counteract a "dyed" look, Mr. Paschkes often allows his dye swab to skip a gray hair now and then on a dark head. He even likes to leave some of the silver strands undyed at the temples. This is accomplished by sectioning off the strands and pinning them out of the way of the swab with which dye is applied. Letting hair at the temples remain gray, he says Mr. Paschkes, makes a softer face-frame. As hair grows out the hair line demarcation between dyed and undyed shafts will be less noticeable. Because the growing-out process is not as noticeable when this technique is used, a woman can go for longer periods of time without re-touches, according to our expert. If the hair is completely dyed, there will be the need for re-touching about every two or three weeks, says the dye specialist.

Slightly Lighter

Dyeing hair a slightly lighter shade than the original color is recommended by Mr. Paschkes but not coy.

WED RECENTLY—Mrs. Robert Charles Ring, before her marriage October 23, was Laverne Rose Hurley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Hurley. The newlyweds will live in Escanaba at 517 South 12th street.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Erickson, 113 South 14th street, Gladstone, are the parents of a son, their first child, born October 31 at 3 a. m. at St. Francis hospital. The baby weighed seven pounds and eleven ounces.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Van Enkevort, Bark River Route One, are the parents of a son, who weighed seven pounds and nine ounces, born at 8:15 a. m. The baby is the second child in the family.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Sharkey, Spalding, October 31 at 3:12 p. m. at St. Francis hospital. The baby, the second child in the Sharkey family, weighed eight pounds and two ounces.

When you pack a lunch send along soup, occasionally in the vacuum bottle. Hearty split pea soup tastes good with a sandwich, and so does fish chowder or a cream soup.

Add whole-grain corn to griddle cake batter sometimes for Sunday breakfast and serve with fried ham, preserves and coffee.

Flavor cottage cheese with sugar, grated orange rind and raisins and use as a pancake filling. This makes a good dessert after a salad luncheon.

If a customer's hair was originally medium or dark-toned, he advises against a color restoration to make it light blonde or platinum.

When you have your hair recolored, choose a youthful hair style. A smart new coiffure is as helpful as restored hair color in rejuvenation a woman's appearance, says Paschkes. He suggests simple, short-cut styles with hair curled at the sides and top for a coiffure which is youthful but not coy.

COUNTY GOVT FORUM PLANNED

Aten, Wittenburg And Vic Lemmer To Talk

A forum on county government reform will be held under the sponsorship of the Delta County Planning Committee at the House of Ludington Monday evening, Nov. 8, Charles Burton, Gladstone, committee chairman, announces.

Speakers on the 6:30 dinner program will be Murl K. Aten, auditor general of Michigan; William F. Wittenburg, supervising auditor; and Victor F. Lemmer, director of the Gogebic Industrial Bureau, Ironwood.

Steps that could be taken to promote efficiency in county government will be outlined by the speakers. A general discussion will follow.

Members of boards of supervisors of surrounding counties and others interested in local government are invited to attend.

Fall-Winter Program To Be Offered Soon By Recreation Unit

The fall and winter program of activities sponsored by the city recreation department is now being arranged and many projects will be opened soon, it was reported this morning by George Grenholm, director.

Classes in baton twirling will be taught by Miss Agnes Ogren on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday from 3:45 to 5 p. m. Classes on Mondays and Wednesdays will be limited to those children in grades under the fifth, and the other two days will be open for the fifth, sixth and seventh grades. The first class was held this afternoon.

Mrs. Bertha LaChapelle will again offer classes in handicraft for women, on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday from 7-10 p. m. on Tuesday and Thursday classes will also be offered from 2-4 p. m. The first class begins next Monday.

All women are eligible to take these courses, and are asked to register early with the recreation department. Felt hats, purses and jackets and Christmas toys are among the projects offered, for a small registration fee.

Senior and junior basketball leagues, and dartball teams are now being organized. There will be a meeting of dartball managers and captains from both industrial and church teams in the center tomorrow night, at 9 o'clock.

A city-wide boys club will be organized within a few weeks, and will be one of the largest projects undertaken by the department.

Cigarette Throat Irritation Can't Be Differentiated

Chicago.—The throat irritation caused by smoking cigarettes cannot be told from the irritation caused by various bacteria, chemicals and heat, the Journal of the American Medical Association will state in an editorial in its forthcoming issue.

"It would be a wise physician indeed who could differentiate between the two, is the way the Journal puts it.

Cigarette advertising on the basis that the product advertised does not irritate the throat is approaching a point where the advertising is no longer significant," the Journal states.

Besides the impossibility of telling whether the throat irritation is due to cigarettes or to something else, the methods for measuring throat irritation are not standardized.

"Further truly scientific studies and respect for intelligent advertising," the Journal says, "would do away with the need for more trials before the Federal Trade Commission to determine whether cigarette advertising claims are justified or not."

Groggy Panhandler With $1,000 Hunted

Detroit, Mich. (AP)—It seemed like a good gag at the time but Alphonso Harper of Highland Park, said it wasn't a bit funny any more.

He told Detroit police that an acquaintance tried to borrow a dollar from him on the east side early Monday. Harper reached in his pocket and handed the man a $1,000 bill, according to his complaint.

"It was a joke," detectives quoted him. "I thought it would be funny to give him the grand and then watch him faint."

But the friend did not faint. He ran. And he held onto the $1,000 bill, according to Harper.

Detectives are looking for him.

First State-Subsidized Theatre Travels Widely

BY GERARD TETILEY
NEA Special Correspondent

Abingdon, Va. (NEA)—After reeling off more than 53,000 miles "trouping" in the fullest sense of the word—tired thespians of the Virginia Barter Theatre are ready to go into rehearsal for a new season on the road.

Meantime the unique theatrical organization, only state-subsidized theatre in America, makes its headquarters in this little town high in the Southwestern Virginia hills. The home company's season at City Hall is in full cry.

It was conceived by Robert Porterfield of Abingdon, during days of economic depression and waning interest in the theatre. Felt hats, purses and jackets and Christmas toys are among the projects offered, for a small registration fee.

Senior and junior basketball leagues, and dartball teams are now being organized. There will be a meeting of dartball managers and captains from both industrial and church teams in the center tomorrow night, at 9 o'clock.

A city-wide boys club will be organized within a few weeks, and will be one of the largest projects undertaken by the department.

Robert Porterfield: At first, a fowl or a mess of snaps.

miles from town.

There is the case of Stuart Day, one of the leading stars of Barter, who is now encased in a heavy cast.

Playing in "The Hasty Heart" at Leesburg, Va., Day took a backward step, caught his foot in a footlight and toppled over backward into the pit. Some of the audience seemed to think this was part of the script. Day climbed back on the stage for the remaining 15 minutes, took his curtain calls with other members of the cast and, as the curtain dropped, collapsed. At a hospital it was found he had crushed two vertebrae.

Everywhere the Barter players appeared they had large and eager audiences. The fresh greens as a price of admission gradually gave way to lettuce of the folding kind and Barter theatre prospered. The single company was magnified by two more companies and Virginia Barter began to "lap over" into outside territory.

Because the actors travel by bus and trailer truck, the properties and costumes are necessarily boiled down to essentials. Porterfield feels that this merely sharpens the focus on histrionic ability.

"But they all seem to love it," he says.

The tours have called for sharp wits and lightning decisions. There was the instance in which "Twelfth Night" had to be performed without props because the scenery van burned out a bearing

Barter Theatre was a toss-up between failure and success. A farmer came to see the show and produced a small pig as his entrance fee. The pig was removed to the Porterfield ancestral acres. Presently she produced a litter which was raised and sold at a good price and helped put something more solid into the waning treasury.

These days, Barter Theatre is on the giving end. Each year it presents 150 acres of "good Virginia land" and a ham — to an American actor or actress contributing to the "uplift and dignity of the American theatre."

Vandenbergs was named Sunday as the recipient of the 1948 Reserve Officers' association award, established last year and won then by Secretary of State George Marshall.

Governor James H. Duff of Pennsylvania, headed the committee that made the selection. Other prominent members of the selection group included former Supreme Court Justice Owen J. Roberts, Robert L. Johnson, president of Temple University; Harold E. Stassen, president of the University of Pennsylvania; John H. Wanamaker, and Martin W. Clement, president of the Pennsylvania railroad.

Porterfield believes that his organization, which was founded when nearly every cast member had, like Cassius, "a lean and hungry look," has done much to recreate interest in the American stage.

And he retains the affectionate memory of when the box office was loaded with good things to eat. During parous days when he and his wife were staying at the Hotel Virginia in Roanoke, Va., he recalls, "I could buy a meal for $100."

SHRINERS AID HEALTH CAMP

Ahmed Temple Presents Check For $1500

Marquette, Mich.—Ahmed Temple, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, has presented a check for $1,500 to Miss Elba L. Morse, superintendent of the Bay Cliff health camp, for establishment of a workshop at the camp.

The amount represents Ahmed's entire profits from the Polack Brothers Shrine circus, which appeared in the Palestra here last July 22-23-24.

Accompanying the check mailed to Miss Morse was a letter, signed by Vining L. Bjork, potentate; Walter C. Dredahl, recorder, and Roy C. Yungbluth, chairman of the circus committee. It follows:

"At a recent meeting of Ahmed Temple, it was voted unanimously to contribute the sum of $1,500 to Bay Cliff health camp. This represents the entire proceeds to Ahmed Temple from the Polack Brothers Shrine circus, which was staged July 22, 23 and 24, 1948.

"The check is enclosed and we sincerely hope that it will bring as much pleasure and benefit to you and your organization as Ahmed Temple has in presenting it."

Presentation of the circus profits to the Bay Cliff health camp is only part of the Shrine program for helping underprivileged and crippled children.

Ahmed Temple—composed of 1,066 members from all parts of the Upper Peninsula—participates in maintaining Shrine hospitals in the United States, annually sending part of each member's dues to the national organization for that purpose. It also has set up a fund for the purpose of defraying travelling expenses for needy persons going to the nearest Shrine hospital, in Minneapolis.

JEWELER ABLE WATER DOWSER

Charles Erickson Aids
Friend Find Water

Among the many veterans of Charles Erickson, 909 Delta avenue, veteran Gladstone jeweler, is that of water dowsing or finding of hidden springs by use of a forked stick.

This was learned recently after he found water for Erick Newman on his farm at Flat Rock after Mr. Newman had sought water for sometime without success.

Gong to the farm with Mr. Newman about 10 days ago, Mr. Erickson walked about with his forked stick and at the spot where it was pulled down as if by an invisible force he told Newman to dig.

Erickson even aided in digging of the well and they were not down over 9 feet when they struck what must have been an underground spring. When the shovel went through water gushed into the hole so fast they were unable to measure to find how deep it was but were forced to scamper up the ladder and get out of the hole they had dug. Three lengths of large tile pipe were set in place later.

This is not the first time that Mr. Erickson has helped out friends who wanted to locate water. He has known he has the talent for waterwitching for many years.

He says he does not need a hazel fork as do many dowsers, but can use any forked stick. He has never tried wire as some claim to be able to do.

Mr. Erickson says that a large number of persons have the same ability to find water by this method but never realize it as they never experiment to find out.

BEING BUILT
Will Raise Indian Lake
Levels

A new diversion dam is being built on Indian river at the crossing at Manistique Heights on Highway M-94.

Residents of Hiawatha township, impatient over long delays in getting this much needed improvement constructed, took the matter in their own hands and with volunteer labor are building a dam of solid concrete.

They are working against time, hopeful that what they have set out to do will be completed before freezing weather sets in.

For the time being, only the east wing of the dam will be built as time will not permit completion of the entire structure this fall.

A coffer dam of sand filled sacks has been built about the area to be constructed, but the workers are finding it hard to shut off the water completely and some difficulty in operations has been encountered on this account.

A dam of timber construction has been at this spot for many years, but it was rendered useless several years ago when part of it was blown up by parties unknown. Some repairing was done afterwards, but this has not helped and as a result the water stage on the river and on Indian lake has receded to an unprecedented low.

Action was taken several years ago to establish a water level at Indian lake and about three years ago Judge Herbert Rummels in circuit court established this level by decree. This action was taken in order that a dam could be constructed to insure a certain water stage. It was understood that this dam should be built jointly by the state and the county, but no definite action was taken. Recently the town board of Hiawatha township, assured of assistance from Thompson township, voted to foot expenses for material. About a dozen men have been working at the spot since work began last Friday.

Berneida Archey
Wed Saturday To
Denton Nelson

A gown of traditional white slipper satin was worn by Miss Berneida Ann Archey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Archey, 517 Alger avenue, when she became the bride of Denton O. Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Nelson, 114 North Fifth street, at a double ring ceremony performed in the Bethel Baptist church on Saturday evening, October 30.

The Rev. Harold Martinson solemnized the 8 o'clock candlelight service before a large gathering of relatives and friends of the two families. The church was beautifully decorated with American Hue, and baskets of mixed flowers, with vari-colored baby mums predominating, and tapers, relatives sat in pews marked with sprays of mixed flowers, streamers and candles.

Miss Nadine Westin, organist, played several selections of nuptial music and also accompanied Mrs. Donald Nelson of Gladstone while she sang "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer," and Miss Betty Jean Nelson and Justin Nelson who sang "I Love You Truly."

The bride was accompanied to the altar, on a white carpet, by her father, who gave her in marriage. They were preceded to the altar by the bride's sister, Miss Eileen Archey, bridesmaid. The bridegroom was attended by his brother, Paul Nelson, who served as best man. Ushers were Merrill Archey, the bride's brother, and Justin Nelson, brother of the bridegroom.

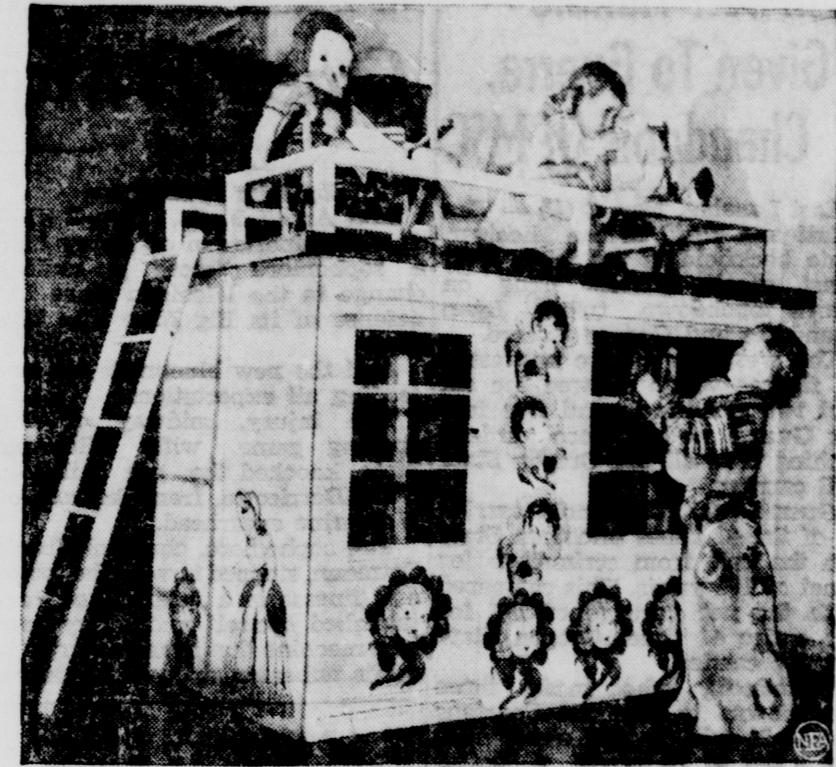

The bride's gown was fashioned with fitted bodice, lace yoke, long sleeves, and a full skirt ending in a long train. Her fingertip veil fell in folds from a lace cap. She carried a colonial bouquet of white baby mums and red roses, and her great-grandmother's handkerchief, which is 75 years old. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

A pink satin gown, styled with a net yoke, cap sleeves, and a full skirt was worn by the bridesmaid. She also wore a Juliet cap and pink elbow length gloves, and carried a colonial bouquet of pastel colored mums.

Mrs. Archey and Mrs. Nelson, mothers of the young couple, were dressed in black with matching accessories and wore corsages of white and bronze baby mums. The bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. Gust Nelson, was also attired in black and wore a corsage of pink and white mums.

200 guests attended the reception which was held in the church parlors following the ceremony. Baskets of flowers decorated the room and the bridal

Nears Completion

"100,000 Children Shall Be Clothed—by US" has been the guiding motto for the Girl Scouts of the United States and its possessions since last November and by December of this year it is expected this project, largest of its kind ever undertaken by the Girl Scouts, will be successfully completed.

Assisting in the dining room were Misses Helen Swanson, Madeline Olesak, Marilyn Nelson, Sally Carlstrom and Mesdames Robert Oberg and Henry Brolin. Church decorations were in charge of Mrs. Leonard Walters, aunt of the bridegroom.

The bride wore for traveling a gray Glen-plaid suit with black accessories and a corsage of red roses and baby mums, when they left on their honeymoon trip to an unannounced destination.

When they return they will make their home at 204 North Houghton avenue.

The bride is a graduate of the local high school, Class of 1945, and is employed as cashier in Schuster's Food Market. The bridegroom, a veteran, is a graduate of the Class of 1943. He is in business with his father.

Out-of-town relatives at the wedding came from Gladstone, Rapid River and Minnewaska.

The bride's gown was styled with a net yoke, cap sleeves, and a full skirt was worn by the bridesmaid. She also wore a Juliet cap and pink elbow length gloves, and carried a colonial bouquet of pastel colored mums.

STUDENTS VOTE
FOR PRESIDENTMock Election Shows
Truman Favorite

The trend in Manistique, if the attitude and convictions of boys and girls in Manistique high school may be taken as criterion, is definitely Democratic.

Election day was held at the school Monday afternoon. Voting booths were set up and instruction ballots used. Of this number 218 voted for Truman; 156 for Dewey, five for Wallace, five for Watson, prohibitionist, and one lone voter cast his ballot for Norman Thomas, Socialist nominee.

In the vote for the governorship, the trend was the other way, Governor Kim Sigler, Republican, leading G. Mennen Williams 188 to 180.

Represented in the vote were 385 students out of the student body of 468.

A vote was also taken on the amendments but there were not enough ballots available to permit a complete vote so figures on these were not given out.

A similar election was held four years ago when President Roosevelt was given a slight edge over Governor Dewey. The spread of votes between the two candidates was much less than that between Dewey and Truman Monday. The real election went for Roosevelt in about the same ratio.

DIGGER SUFFOCATED

Pontiac, (AP)—Earl Zagelmeyer, 36, of Highland Park, suffocated Friday when trapped in a four foot cave-in while digging a drain for his new home at Walled Lake. Workers dug for 20 minutes to get his body out of the ditch.

meat" (sometimes it does and sometimes it doesn't), self defense, "wife needs a new coat," etc. But when a conservation officer, merely does his duty, and not the violator, is the one who is put on the spot.

At the conclusion of his talk, he volunteered to answer questions. Most of these questions had to do with the bird season, it being contended by the questioners that the increase of the bag limit was not justified. He answered that generally speaking, surveys showed a large increase of the partridge population in the state and the conservation acted upon the findings of this survey. He denied that the limit was raised in order to increase the sale of hunting licenses.

Ponto Sees Bright Basketball Picture At Manistique High

Manistique, Nov. 2—Prospects for a basketball team which will be a great improvement over that of last year seem bright to Hilton Ponto, Manistique high school coach.

Checking over last year's list of players, he finds that last year's first string of varsity players will be back again, and with plenty of experience to guide them they should be able to start an season-ed players when the season opens.

The first practice will be held in the old gym next Wednesday with such seasoned players as Johnnie Hockstad and Mickey McFarlane, forwards; Everett Patz, center; Kenneth Smith and Robert Carlson, guards, eager to go.

Other boys likely to make the varsity squad are Douglas Moreau, Norman Jahn, John DeMars, Jack Minor, Eugene Schneider, Donald Louranc, Howard Hartman, Jerry Nelson, and several others whose work will be closely watched.

Last year's Emerald team was virtually a green team at the outset of the season and for the first few weeks its record was somewhat disheartening. But toward the close of the season the team began to show fitness which should be reflected in this season's record.

Tigers Send Liebold To Manage Mudhens

Detroit, Nov. 2 (AP)—The parent Detroit Tigers will send Harry (Nemo) Liebold to pilot the Toledo Mud Hens through the first year under Detroit direction.

The 55-year-old veteran manager of the Louisville Colonels will replace George Detore, it was announced yesterday.

Last year the Colonels finished last in their league, the first time a Liebold-coached team finished out of the first division in the 14 years he has been with the Boston Red Sox system.

Detroit bought Toledo a year ago but will be operating it for the first time during the 1949 season.

GRIDDER DIES

Syracuse, N. Y., Nov. 2 (AP)—Leonard Tucci, who was injured in a semi-professional football game here Sunday, died last night in a Syracuse hospital. He was 22. The hospital said death was caused by a brain hemorrhage.

Football is believed to have originated in England in the 11th century.

ESCANABA DAILY PRESS S P O R T S

"It Seems To Me"

BY MM WARD

Caught on rebound at Escanaba-Gladstone game Saturday: Hard tackling was the rule and not the exception . . . Knowing they stood little chance of upsetting the Escanaba machine that rolled up top-heavy scores on successive weekends over Kingsford, Iron Mountain and Marinette, the Braves nevertheless were intent on giving everything they had . . . And believe me, they did . . . Coach Cappy Keil was worried about not having enough backs left to finish the game . . . At the outside, Wallace Cameron's plea over the P. A. system, "Is there a doctor in the house?", was heard almost as often as "Escanaba's ball, first and 10."

At the outset of the game, Gladstone lost two key players . . . Buddy Clark, first string back, went out with a dislocated elbow . . . That's what it was—a dislocated elbow . . . He hit Herb Nicholson hard on an off-tackle smash . . . Really hit him hard and stopped him for a one-yard gain . . . The way Nick travels, knees high and long strides, you have to hit him hard to hold him down to a one-yard gain . . . On the next play, Lawrence Boden, tackle, went out with two fractured fingers . . . A few plays later, Jim Erickson, Escanaba tackle, injured his finger but with Assistant Coach Jim Rouman applied the tape, he was able to return to action.

The Braves made a fine goaline stand after a 15-yard penalty for pass interference put the ball on the Gladstone one . . . Big Warren Gustafson, undoubtedly a top ranking tackle of all-state caliber, went back to his 1947 role at fullback for one play and was stopped at the line of scrimmage . . . Carlson was thrown for a four-yard loss . . . Nick failed to gain and then Stan Jugo stopped Dick Prial a yard short of the goal after Dick had covered four yards.

It was all for naught, however, for on the first play after Gladstone's punt out of danger (?), Carlson passed to Howie Perron, who went 32 yards to score . . . Escanaba really rolled the second half, but Gladstone made a huge fight of it the first half . . . A penalty, fumble and two intercepted passes were behind those first half touchdowns . . . This doesn't detract from Escanaba's showing . . . The Eskymos were quick to take advantage of all breaks and to make their own—such as Carlson's 75-yard intercepted pass return and Kangas' scooping up of that blocked pass . . . That's the test of a good football team.

Incidentally, Kangas was almost gone for a TD on that play . . . What a day they would have made for a guard, a position in which you spend most of the time with your nose in the dirt! . . . Later in the game, Gil booted a placement for an extra point . . . If he'd made that touchdown, too, that would have been one for the books . . . Alf Nelson, substitute tackle, had a moment of glory unusual to a lineman, too when he recovered a Gladstone fumble on the Gladstone 37 to set up Gerry Bink's TD that made it 47-0.

When Gilbert Prevost passed to Jim Prokos once, it was nullified by a penalty for offensive interference . . . What happened? . . . They turned around and did it again. Prevost to Prokos to advance to the Braves' 30 . . . That set the stage for the final TD . . . Dick Stade, Braves' quarterback, really hit John Beaumier hard on that last long run when he stopped him on the two-foot line.

Most one-sided games are dull, uninteresting affairs, but not this one . . . Escanaba's razzle-dazzle, efficient passing by both elevens, long runs and the parade of Escanaba reserve talent that produced such promising stars as John Beaumier and Gerry Bink made it interesting from start to finish . . . At least from the viewpoint of an Escanaba spectator . . . It was painful for Gladstone fans, but they should console themselves with the thought of the Braves' last three championship teams and the fact the team was hit extremely hard by graduation last spring.

Big Nine Grid Data

of the season . . . Otherwise, the undefeated Wolverines were in good shape for their meeting with Navy.

Indiana — The Hoosiers, who met Notre Dame Saturday, found themselves with a growing casualty list . . . Joe and Walter Bartkiewicz suffered ankle injuries . . . George Talaferro, left halfback, re-injured his leg . . . Ernie Kovatch, sophomore end, was out of uniform with a bad hip.

Wisconsin — The Badgers will be at full strength for their homecoming clash with Northwestern . . . They emerged from the Iowa game badly bruised, but no player was hurt seriously . . . End Tom Bennett and Tackle Ken Huxold are expected to be recovered from previous injuries and report to drills this week.

Illinois — End Slip Kersulis, key receiver who suffered a twisted knee against Michigan, has responded to treatment and will be ready for Iowa . . . Sam Piazza, hard running back who was withheld from the Michigan contest with a side injury, rejoined the squad.

Ohio State — Jack Dawson, a kickoff specialist, and Jerry Krall, ace ball-carrier, are on the casualty list . . . Dawson had a bad ankle and Krall has a chest injury.

Minnesota — Quarterback Jim Malicky, Halfback Jack Sturdevant and Lineman Bill Carroll are laid up with minor injuries but are expected to be ready for Purdue Saturday.

Purdue — Fullback Harry Salsborski may start at left half against Minnesota as Purdue tries to find a way to crack the Gophers' stout defense which held Michigan 22 yards rushing and stopped Indiana with a minus 23 . . . Right half Norb Adams, out for a week with chest injuries, may be ready to go Saturday.

Northwestern — The Wildcats' counted six casualties after their bruising 21-7 win over Ohio State . . . Backs Frank Aschenbrenner and Ed Tunnicliff and Linemen Chuck Hagnam, Bert Keddie, Bill Forman and Fats Day had an assortment of ailments . . . All probably will be ready for the Wisconsin game Saturday.

Michigan — Tackle Gene Dericotte aggravated a knee injury and will be making a repeat appearance in the All-Star contest. They lost 4-3 to the handpicked players in the inaugural match at Toronto last year. The Leafs, who bowed 2-1 to the Chicago Blackhawks Sunday, remained in Chicago for the All-Star game and worked out at the stadium today.

But U-M Gets Crack At Navy This Saturday

Wolves Get 14 More First Place Votes

By JACK HAND

New York, Nov. 2 (AP)—The old Notre Dame-Michigan argument is on again with the Irish out front by a slender three-point margin in the weekly Associated Press poll of football writers.

Displacing the Wolverines by a total of 1,762 points to 1,759, Notre Dame actually ran behind Michigan in the matter of first place votes, 68-67.

The South Benders picked up their margin on second and third place ballots.

It is quite possible both clubs may win all their remaining games and stir up another tremendous post-season discussion. Once again they do not meet.

Carolina Is Threat

North Carolina, running a strong third, is a definite threat to both leaders with 36 first place votes and 1,458 points. William and Mary, Maryland, Duke and Virginia are the only teams remaining in their path leading to a sure bowl bid.

The first 20 teams of last week are back again with one exception and that club, Baylor, was not beaten. There certainly will be some casualties Saturday.

Notre Dame plays Indiana, which has lost its last four games, and Michigan gets a whack at Navy, which has not won yet. It was the Middies, beaten 41-7 by a Notre Dame team that was trying hard to hold down the score, who helped the Irish into first place.

Army is the No. 4 team in the poll with 1,249 points after its 49-7 romp over Virginia Tech.

California, the lone Pacific coast team among the nine who are unbeaten and untied, is fifth with 1,132.

Wildcats in 10th

Georgia Tech again is ranked sixth with 1,109. Back of seventh place Penn with 575 points, in eighth place is Southern Methodist, whose Doak Walker had a big afternoon in a 21-6 victory over Texas. Its points total 432. Missouri holds ninth spot with 382 points and Northwestern moved into 10th place with 371 points on the strength of its 21-7 decision over Ohio State.

The 208 first place votes were distributed among 13 teams. Behind Michigan 68, Notre Dame 56, and North Carolina 36 came California 16, Georgia Tech 7, Clemson 6, Army and Nevada, each 5. Missouri 4, Oklahoma 2, and Penn State, Southern Methodist and Vanderbilt, each 1.

The standings of the teams, points figured on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis (first place votes in parentheses):

1. Notre Dame (56)	1,762
2. Michigan (68)	1,759
3. North Carolina (36)	1,458
4. Army (5)	1,249
5. California (16)	1,132
6. Georgia Tech (7)	1,109
7. Pennsylvania	575
8. Southern Methodist (1)	432
9. Missouri (4)	382
10. Northwestern	371
11. Nevada (5), 300; 12. Clemson (6), 189; 13. Georgia, 153; 14. Penn State (1), 136; 15. Oklahoma (2) 81; 16. Oregon, 59; 17. Michigan State, 53; 18. Wake Forest, 47; 19. Minnesota, 46; 20. Tulane, 34.

Other receiving votes were: Baylor, 24; Mississippi, 16; Vanderbilt, 1 (1); Cornell 9; Dartmouth, 8; Duke and Kansas, each 7; Appalachian State, 6; Illinois and Tennessee, each 5; Iowa, 4; Princeton, 3; Maryland and William and Mary, each 2; and North Carolina State, 1.

Cornell Made 296 Lineup Changes In Win Over Columbia

New York, Nov. 2 (AP)—James Phelan, coach of the professional Los Angeles Dons, says football is getting out of hand with the new unlimited substitution rule.

He'd like to see some changes made.

Addressing the New York Football Writers luncheon yesterday, Phelan proposed that wholesale substitutions be permitted only at the start of each quarter.

During the rest of the game, he added, substitutions should be limited to three changes at a time.

"If you were on offense and lost the ball you could change, for example, to defensive quarterback and one end and also insert your line backer specialist."

He remarked that 296 lineup changes were made by Cornell in its victory over Columbia Saturday.

Coach Lou Little of Columbia, chairman of the Coaches' Rules committee, said he opposed a return to limited substitution. He agreed, however, Phelan's suggestion would help the schools with small squads and not hurt those with large ones.

Mutt-Jeff Handle Given To Guerre, Chandnois Of MSC

By JOHN F. MAYHEW

East Lansing, Nov. 2 (P)—The "Mutt and Jeff" of the Michigan State backfield is the label West Coast sports writers hung on Flint's touchdown twins, Lynn Chandnois and George Guerre.

The westerners were impressed by figures which showed the six foot two Chandnois and five foot six Guerre netted more yardage rushing than all the Oregon State ball carriers.

Guerre and Chandnois carried 22 of the 41 times Michigan State ran the ball from scrimmage for a net of 161 yards. This compared with the net yardage of 117 for the entire 41 times Oregon State players carried.

Chandnois, who made three touchdowns to give the Spartans the 46-21 win, lugged eight times for a net of 74 yards, a better than 9 yard average for each time carried. Guerre carried 14 times for a net of 87 yards, a better than six yard average.

BUREAU PLUGS FOR INDUSTRIES

Drive To Get Factories Will Continue

To anyone who thought otherwise, the Development Bureau would like it made known that Upper Peninsula communities are determined to follow this idea of a planned industrial development program through to a finish.

There were skeptics who, shown the new industrial brochure published by the Michigan Department of Economic Development and the Development Bureau, felt that the program would end there and that the brochures would gather dust on someone's shelf.

Not so! To those skeptics, the Bureau would like to make this announcement:

"Twenty-three calls on leaders of as many communities has resulted in 23 approvals of fund quotas for individual towns and cities. To date, $6215 of the industrial division's projected $12,000 budget for 1949 has been raised and there are indications that our goal will be reached."

In many cases, reports Ben F. Clark, former field representative of the Department of Economic Development and now executive manager of the Bureau's industrial division, businessmen of a community are underwriting the quota for their cities.

"That certainly shows a widespread endorsement of the project," he stated in a report to the Bureau. "It is a pleasure to report that township, city and village officials, Chambers of Commerce, Lions clubs and unorganized business all have cheerfully agreed to accept their share of the burden."

"No question has been raised in any town as to the desirability of creating this fund. The only point of discussion is as to the method. Added to those facts, is the record that not one of the 37 participating communities ever withdrew from the industrial survey program. That is one of the most unprecedented and outstanding performances that has come to my attention in many years of extensive field work throughout Michigan."

Cooks

Card Party

Cooks, Mich.—The Happy Jacks met at the home of Mrs. William Deuparo Wednesday to celebrate the birthdays of the hostess and also Mrs. J. J. Griffin. Cards were the diversion of the afternoon, awards being presented to Marie Tomamich, Laura Wolfe, Hattie Miller, Edith Deuparo and Nellie Hartman. The celebrants received gifts.

Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. John Nadeau of Meadowville, Mich., former residents of Cooks for many years, celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary Sunday, Oct. 31. They had six children, Paul of Manistique, Edward of Plainwell Michigan; Lois (Mrs. E. Lausten) of Cooks; Mark of Cooks; Alice of Lower Michigan and the sixth member, Floyd, who passed away when a child. They have several grandchildren.

Mrs. Richard Tanguay has returned to the Sault after spending some time here with Mr. and Mrs. Jules Tanguay. Richard remained here to work in Manistique.

Guests at the William Winkel home Monday were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lamkey and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Sill of Garden, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lamkey, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Munch, daughter Carol and friend of Milwaukee.

Mr. and Mrs. James Kelly have received word of the death of Mrs. Mary Duchaine of Gladstone where they drove Sunday. Mrs. Duchaine was an aunt of Mrs. Kelly being a half sister of Mrs. J. Black.

A few friends called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bockorny Saturday night to help them celebrate their 24th wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Orr of Grand Rapids arrived Thursday to visit with Mr. and Mrs. K. Maghan.

Young Spouse Leaps To Death In River As Bride Looks On

Grand Rapids, Mich. (P)—As his bride of two months looked on, 20-year-old Roy Anes jumped off a downtown bridge Saturday night and drowned.

Police Monday quoted his wife, Paula, as saying her husband leaped from the Leonard St. bridge after an argument over going to a midnight show.

Mr. and Mrs. Anes and another couple were driving across the bridge when witnesses reported Anes jumped out of the car, ran to the bridge railing and leaped. He refused a life preserver thrown to him by bystanders.
